

The French medical software company TECHNIDATA joins Total Specific Solutions

4 September 2019, Nieuwegein/Grenoble. The globally operating French healthcare company TECHNIDATA specialized in laboratory information software joins Total Specific Solutions ("TSS"). This is TSS's fourth acquisition in France in 2019 and the first in the healthcare vertical with industry-specific software solutions for hospital and clinical laboratories.

Leading software provider TECHNIDATA offers mission-critical solutions that cover all the laboratory disciplines: biochemistry, hematology, immunology, microbiology, blood banking, histology/cytology, genetics, and biobanking. The solution suite consists of a Laboratory Information System ("LIS") (Livextens® suite), middleware solutions (T^DHarmony® suite and T^DBactiLink®), instrument workstations and a web-based requests and results module (T^DWeb®). TECHNIDATA also offers services such as consulting, development, support and training.

Mr. Han Knooren, Group CEO at TSS: "TECHNIDATA is a French VMS (Vertical Market Software) company with an outstanding track record, leading internationally in its field. We value its focus on the specific needs in a highly regulated and quality sensitive industry. While most VMS companies only cover the national market, Technidata has a global footprint covering Western Europe, North America, and Asia. We can learn from their practices and approaches to developing internationally demand-driven software. And we can share our insights and learnings with the TECHNIDATA team on running successful VMS companies. Also, as TECHNIDATA is our fourth acquisition this year in France following Félix Informatique, Metamicro, and the Salvia Group, we further strengthen our position in France, which has now become the second home market for TSS next to the Netherlands.

Mr. François Falco, President of TECHNIDATA: "In nearly 30 years, we have built a company with dedicated software solutions for public and private laboratories for a worldwide market. Time has come to think about the next phase of the company. TECHNIDATA, its staff and clients are a priority for me, so finding the right owner is crucial. In TSS with its "software for life" principle, we have found a perpetual owner, one that understands how to run VMS companies. This means continuity for the company, our clients, and our employees. I will stay on for the coming years as a senior advisor helping the new Managing Director, Olivier de Korte, who will report directly to Han Knooren, settle into his new role. And I am looking forward to seeing TECHNIDATA continue its next phase as an independent business unit of TSS."

TECHNIDATA

TECHNIDATA is a major player in the field of software solutions for hospital and clinical laboratories. Their solutions serve organizations from the small single-discipline private laboratory to very large multi-site and multi-disciplinary state-owned institutions. Their solutions are distributed worldwide by subsidiaries and a network of selected partners. In addition, TECHNIDATA collaborates with IVD, life science, and e-health companies to provide cost-effective OEM solutions. TECHNIDATA serves around 600 customers worldwide, has over 170 employees, and has its headquarters in Grenoble, France. Visit the website for more information: <https://www.technidata-web.com>
